Davy Crockett, the Second.

Mr. Crutchfield, Congressman elect from Tennessee, in many of his striking original traits bears a great resemblance to the immortal Davy Crockett. The following is from the pen of a special correspondent of the Washington Star, who accompanied the excursion of the late St. Louis Congressional Convention to Texas:

At Grand Junction we left the rough diamond of the Congressional party—the Hon. Wm. Crutchfield, the newly elected member from the Chattanooga District. Since the days of Davy Crockett, Tennessee has always managed to have at least one mountaineer character in Congress; and Crutchfield, the latest, is said to resemble Crockett more in originality and style than any of the intervening line. He is a sunburnt, wiry litte man, with foxy hair and whiskers, and though, by report, of considerable means, wears the cheapest of homespun suits, a good deal frayed at the edges, and with a pair of heavy, well-greased cowhide brogans that were the perpetual despair of the Pullman boot-blacks. He is not only a mighty hunter, like Crockett, but is moreover a shrewed business man. He built the "Crutchfield House, at Chattanooga, which was sold during the war for $65,000 in Confederate money, and the proceeds prudently turned at once into real estate in the shape of valuable farming land. In the same prudent way Crutchfield invested Confederate money as fast as it came into his hands into tobacco, which, on the advance of the Union troops, he sold at $1.50 per pound in greenbacks. Knowing the country and the people thoroughly, he was of great service to General Sherman as a scout. When he was put up for Congress nobody supposed he stood any chance of being elected, as the District went Democratic at the previous election by some 5,000 majority, but his neighbors took hold of him and elected him by about 1,500 majority. Crutchfield, by his quaint remarks and racy narratives of mountainneering experiences, made himself vastly popular with the whole party, and when he took the train at Grand Junction, it was conceded that w "have better spared a better man." So there was a general demand that he should make a Produce consigned to my care. parting speech while the train waited, and he mounted a platform barrow and proceeded spectfully solicited. They will receive careful about as follows:

"Gen-tel-men-We air about to part after having travelled about a good deal hyar and thar; but I hope to meet you next winter over thar at Washington. My friend Hype, of Arkausas, give me some good advice how to keep from bein sea-sick when we war down thar on the Gulf. It war to lay head back, and look up. I think, my friends, that in these mo-bi-ler times that will be a good thing to do when get to Washington. [Tremendous applause.] Gen-tel-men-We have been through a great country. Napoleon Bonny-part truly said, when he threw down the pen after deeding Louisiana to the Americans, "Thar's the heaviest blow great Britain ever got.' plause.] Gen-tel-men-I wish you could have gone up home with me. I am the little dog in the big rye up thar. I have got the smartest old woman, and the finest brats you ever sot eyes on. We've got the tallest mountains and the best whiskey you ever sampled. [Applause. [ Thar is Lookout Mountain, from which you can see four States-Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia and the drunken state. Gen-tel-men-If ever you' -here the engine gave a snort and the train moved off, amidst loud cheers for Crutchfield.

Pecuniary Rewards of Authorship. Practical people have sometimes looked upon literature, and, especially, poetry, as mere moonshine, but its results in these latter days are sometimes intensily practical, even in the most material sense of the term. The Philadelphia Press remarks that one wonders at the immense sums received in these later days by Scott and Moore, Byron and Bulwer, Thackeray and Dickens, and is almost inclined to doubt whether there ever was such a haunt for authors as Grub street; whither Samuel Johnson sometimes took his eleemosynary dinner at Edward Cave's, behind a screen, his clothes too ragged to bear the mid-day light; whether THOMAS PERRY, Goldsmith ever tried to live, on half-rations, in a garret in Green Arbor court; whether Otway died of starvation or Savage in a prison at Bristol. In these later days authors have fall-en "into pleasant places." If Poe should pe-rish in the prime of life and flush of intellect, it is easy for a Griswold or a Briggs, men utterly devoid of imagination and addicted to faultfinding, to speak of his "errors," but, with us, there has been only one Poe, whereas Longfellow, Bancroft, Emerson, Whittier, Holmes, and other gifted men have won by the pen respectable incomes, and sometimes what even a Third street or a Wall street broker would estimate as affluence.

The Press refers to the fact that, when Rev. John Keble, of England, died, in 1866, it was ascertained that his little volume of poems, "The Christian Year," had gone through ninety-two editions up to that time, having yielded him a royalty of $4,000 per annum! It was frequently reprinted in the United States, but without any considerable pecuniary advantage to the author, The price has hitherto been kept up by the English publishers. At last, however, the legal copyright has expired, and a multitude of new and low-priced English editions may be looked for-to realize for many publishers ten times the profits gained by one on the exclusive principle. Every one who reads books must be aware that, enormous as were the profits of Sir Walter Scott's numerous works during his lifetime, the profits of various editions since his death have been treble, at least. So with the the works of Dickens, Thackeray, Charlotte Bronte, and others, republished since the authors died. A new instance is about being presented. Geo. Routledge & Sons, enterprising London publishers, who paid Bulwer $10,000 per annum for a long time, on condition of being allowed to recoup themselves by printing cheap editions, have now purchased, at an immense price, the copyright of all the published and unpublished works of that bril- We have on hand an article that we can re-

BALTO. LOCK HOSPITAL

DR. JOHNSTON.

Physician of this celebrated institution, has discovered the most Certain, Speedy, Pleasant and Effectual Remedy in the world for ail DISEASES OF IMPRUDENCE.

Weakness of the Back or Limbs, Strictures, Affection of the Kidneys or Bladder, Involuntary Discharges, Impotency, General Debility, Nervousness, Dyspepsia, Languor, Low Spirits, Confusion of Ideas, Palpitation of the Heart, Timidity, Trembling, Dimness of Sight, or Giddiness, Disease of the Head, Throat, Nose or Skin, Affections of the Liver, Lungs, Stomach or Bowels—those terrible Disorders arising from Solitary Habits of Youth—secret and solitary practices more fatal to their victims than itary practices more fatal to their victims than the songs of the Syrens to the Mariners of Ulysses, blighting their most brilliant hopes or anticipations, &c.

YOUNG MEN.

Especially, who have become the victims of Solitary Vice, and dreadful and destructive habits which annually sweep to an untimely grave thousands of young men of the most ex-alted talents and brilliant intellect, who might otherwise have entranced listening Senates with the thunders of eloquence, or waked to extac the living lyre, may call with full confidence.

MARRIAGE. Married persons, or Young Men contemplat-ing marriage, aware of Physical Weakness. Loss of Procreative Power-Impotency,) Ner-vous Excitability, Palpitation, Organic Weak-ness, Nervous Debility, or any other Disqualification, speedily relieved.

He who places himself under the care of Dr J.
may religiously confide in his honor as a gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as physician.

ORGANIC WEAKNESS.

Immediately cured and Full Vigor Restored. This distressing Affection—which renders life miserable and marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by the victims of improper indulgencies. Young persons are too apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to deny that the natural powers are lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than by the prudent ing into improper habits than by the prudent Besides being deprived of the pleasure of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms of both body and mind arise. The system becomes deranged, the Physical and Mental Functions weakened. Loss of Procreative Power Nervous, Irritability, Dyspepsia, Palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion, Constitutional Debility, and Wasting of the Frame, Cough, Consumption, Decay and Death.

CHILDREN'S SCHOOL AND WALKING Persons ruined by Ignorant, Trifling Pretenders and their Deadly Poison, should apply immediately. DR. JOHNSTON.

Member of the Royal College of Surgery of London, Graduate of one of the most eminent Colleges in the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing many troub cures that were ever known; ringing in the head and ears when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.

Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgence and solitary habits, which ruin both body and mind, unfitting them for either business, study, society or mar-

These are some of the sad and melancholy offects produced by the early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Func-tions, General Debility, Symtoms of Consump-MENTALLY.—The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded. Loss of Memory, Con-fusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Fore-bedings, Aversion to Society, Self Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced.

Thousands of persons of all ages can now judge what is the cause of their declining health, losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale, nervous and emaciated, having a singular appearance about the eyes, cough and symptoms of Consumption. YOUNG MEN

Who have injured themselves by a certain practice, already described, a habit frequently learned from evil companions or at school, the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured, renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply im

What a pity that a young man, the hope of what a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, the pride of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyment of life by the consequence of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in pernicious habits. Such persons must, before comtemplating.

Reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness. Indeed, without these the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage, the prospect hourly darkens to the view, the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another is blighted with our own. DISEASES OF IMPRUDENCE. When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds that he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shame or dread of discovery de-ters him from applying to those who, from education and respectability, can alone be friend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of the horrid disease makes their appearance, such as ulcerated sore throat, diseased nose, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, deatness, nodes on the shin bones and arms blotches on the head, face and extremities, progressing with frightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this awful disease be-comes a horrid object of commisseration till whence no traveller returns." whence no traveller returns."

It is a melancholy fact that thousands DIE victims to this terrible disease, through falling into the hands of ignorant or unskiful PRE-TENDERS, who, by the use of that deadly Poison, Mercury, &c., destroy the constitution, and incapable of curing, keep the unhappy suf ferer month after month taking their noxious or injurious compounds, and instead of being re stored to a renewal of Life, Vigor and Happiness in despair leaves him with ruined Health to sigh over his galling disappointment.
